PAUL GUTHRIE NAA President 1957

Remembrances by Rolf Valtin October 2009

Although I did not know Paul Guthrie well, we did have mutual friends, and I had a few chats with him at Academy meetings. In one of our chats, I discovered that both of Paul's sons had attended or were attending Swarthmore, my alma mater. Bill and Ruth Simkin's sons also went to Swarthmore, probably around the same time as Paul's sons. But I never heard of any sort of association between any of the four sons.

Paul was a large man, a leading arbitrator from the South, and a man with a reputation of rock solid integrity.
