THE IMMOKALEE ARBITRATION AGREEMENT -
DISPUTE RESOLUTION FOR LOW INCOME
AGRICULTURAL WORKERS

A few years ago, an organization of agricultural workers in Florida, although not formally in a union, nonetheless developed a program for expedited arbitration of workplace disputes using NAA members. What is the program and how is it going? Is it model for what can be done in a era of continuing decline in union density? The session will have commentary by Jeanne Wood, the moderator, and Walt DeTreu, NAA panelists under the agreement. Principal speakers will be Steve Hitov of the Coalition of Immokalee Workers and Douglas Smith of the Littler law firm, the individuals who led negotiations for the plan.

CLASS ACTION WAIVERS AND THE U.S. SUPREME COURT

The U.S. Supreme Court has scheduled oral argument in three landmark cases to resolve a split between circuit courts of appeal over whether it is unlawful under the National Labor Relations Act for employers to require employees to waive their right to engage in concerted activity in the form of class or collective actions. In terms of potential impact, the decision, expected by June 2018, may be the most important workplace ruling of the court in decades. Lise Gelernter, the moderator, will be joined by Jackie Drucker to provide an update on the principal arguments and expectations for the cases. Stephen Hayford, from the NAA's amicus committee, will describe the position taken by the Academy in a brief to be filed with the court.

PAYMENT AHOY: NAVIGATING THE FEDERAL SECTOR PAY SYSTEM FOR ARBITRATORS

This workshop session is designed to assist those arbitrators who get lost in the side tracks and dead ends of U.S. federal sector billing and payment practices. If a member has given up on handling these cases due to difficulties encountered in the past, perhaps it is time to take another look. Our navigators will be Jack Clarke, the moderator, and Alan Symonette. They will be assisted by Arthur Pearlstein, Director of Arbitration Services at the FMCS.

UNION STRENGTH AT THE WORKPLACE - RIPE FOR EXPORT TO CANADA?

A number of legislative and judicial changes are on the workplace horizon in the U.S., including new union security laws and a possible U.S. Supreme Court review of agency fees in the public sector. What changes are in store, and will Canada be affected by imports from the U.S.? Marty Malin, the moderator, will provide a descriptive overview of recent developments, along with Dan Nielsen revisiting his comments a few years ago about the unionized landscape in Wisconsin. Allen Ponak will join the session to offer insights about what has happened in Canada on these issues, and what might be ahead.

EVIDENTIARY PRIVILEGES AND MEDICAL RECORDS IN THE U.S. AND CANADA

How do arbitrators in our two countries handle the involvement of attorneys, business agents, personnel representatives, and medical professionals when advocates probe the evidence in cases raising medical issues. What role do federal, state and provincial statutes play in governing the rules of privilege and privacy.
