

June 09, 2011 02:05 PM Eastern Daylight Time

National Academy of Arbitrators Elects Officers; Sara Adler Named President-Elect

LOS ANGELES--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Sara Adler of Los Angeles, CA was elected President-Elect of the National Academy of Arbitrators (NAA), www.naarb.org, the leading North American organization of labor and employment arbitrators, it was announced today.

"I'm very honored to have been elected to lead this group of the finest workplace dispute resolution experts in the world"

Adler will succeed current President Roberta Golick when her term expires in June 2012 at the annual NAA conference for labor and management practitioners in Minneapolis, MN.

"I'm very honored to have been elected to lead this group of the finest workplace dispute resolution experts in the world," says Adler, a full-time arbitrator and mediator.

Others elected include: Vice Presidents: Margaret Brogan, Philadelphia, PA, Shyam Das, Haverford, PA, Ira F. Jaffe, Potomac, MD, and John F. Sass, Golden, CO; and Board of Governors: Richard Adelman, New York, NY, Sharon Henderson Ellis, Brookline, MA, Howell L. Lankford, Milwaukie, OR, Barry E. Simon, Arlington Heights, IL, and Susan L. Stewart, Toronto, ON.

About the National Academy of Arbitrators

The National Academy of Arbitrators (NAA), www.naarb.org, is a professional and honorary organization of more than 600 labor and employment arbitrators from the United States and Canada. Founded in 1947, the NAA fosters the highest standards of integrity, competence, honor, and character among those engaged in the resolution of labor-management and other workplace disputes.

Contacts

National Academy of Arbitrators
David Petersen, 607-756-8363
davidpetersen@naarb.org